

History of Cursillo

Cursillo is open to people of all denominations who believe in Jesus. It was designed by a group of laymen and Roman Catholic priests in Spain to formulate a method to help renew the church in the 1940's. They called it Cursillo or a 'short course' in fundamental teachings of Jesus as lived out with other Christians. In the 1950's, Cursillo migrated from Latin America to the United States, and from its Catholic roots to many other denominations. The laypeople of Reformed Church of America in Central Iowa adapted the program with the support of the Lutheran Church in the 1980's and we continue to renew our approach while remaining true to the Cursillo method.

When and where is Cursillo held

The Central Iowa Cursillo begins on Thursday evening, and ends on Sunday evening, at the handicapped accessible Riverside Lutheran Bible Camp, Story City, Iowa. Visit our website for upcoming events.
